PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The South Dakota Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is dedicated to serving the children and youth experiencing serious learning disorders that prevent them from realizing their full potential in the regular classroom setting; and

WHEREAS, The Association specifically directs its efforts toward improving educational opportunities for these exceptional children; and

WHEREAS, It is essential to maintain a search of available information from libraries, periodicals and other relevant professional sources of data to keep members aware of work contemplated, initiated and completed in the field of Learning Disabilities; and

WHEREAS, It is necessary to support or conduct research programs, public education projects, professional discussions, studies of incidence and frequency in the population, establish testing programs and develop schools and classes for children with learning disabilities; and

WHEREAS, By distributing the findings on children with learning disabilities to parents, professionals and the general public, others involved in this area of public, parochial and private education may have this information for consideration in their own programs.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANK L. FARRAR, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week of November 16-22, 1969, as:

and urge all citizens to assist in helping our children with learning defects.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State of South Dakota to be affixed this 19th day of September in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-nine.

Frank L. Farrar
